

An illustration of a cliff edge. Several sheep are shown in various stages of falling off the cliff. One is at the top, another is in mid-air, and others are further down. The cliff face is jagged and has some small plants growing on it. The background is a blue wash representing the sky or water.

Coursework

driving you over the edge?

Drop-in to a Library & IT Session!

Need help with referencing, researching or finding journal articles for your coursework? Formatting a long document or getting your Table of Contents just right? Come along for as little or as long as you like. Five minutes may be all you need.

When? Weekly, from 22nd September 2015

Tuesdays 11-12, Wednesdays 12-1 and Thursdays 3-4

Where? IT Training Suite, Level 2, Library

Contact: library@abertay.ac.uk

Find us on Twitter & YouTube @AbertayLibrary

